FACTS AND FIGURES

GAPFA represents at least 92% of the total global pet food production (total global value estimated at $70-75 billion USD in 2015).

GAPFA ACTIVITIES

The Executive Committee meets on a regular basis and is representative of different GAPFA regions. The President, two Vice-Presidents, the Treasurer and the Secretary are part of the Executive Committee together with other officers nominated by their association or company, which remain responsible for the Alliance's Executive Committee commitment.

On a daily basis, GAPFA's work is organised around workstreams on food safety and trade facilitation, nutrition and communications.

The Food Safety and Trade Facilitation Workstream focuses on product safety and works towards a consensus on how industry can address the barriers to the international trade of pet food products. The voluntary GAPFA Safety Guidance serves as a general self-regulation framework for pet food manufacturers to produce safe pet food and to provide guidance for safety criteria facilitating international trade.

The Nutrition Workstream focuses on guidelines to industry and governments for producing nutritionally balanced pet food for maintaining the health of cats and dogs.

The Communications Workstream focuses on communication and education of external stakeholders regarding the global pet food industry, pet food safety, dog and cat nutrition and responsible pet ownership. It also seeks to explain in simple terms the science and regulatory framework underpinning development of pet food product recipes and the production of safe and high-quality pet food.

In addition to the workstreams and the Executive Committee, the GAPFA General Assembly meets face to face once a year and deliberates on all matters of common interest as far as possible to reach a common position.

GAPFA members recognize that collaboration and shared knowledge can benefit pet food makers, pet lovers and, of course, the dogs and cats we feed. GAPFA's members share information on product safety, nutrition and trade, all with the goal of providing consumer choice that allows pet lovers to select the most appropriate food for their cat's or dog's nutritional needs.
